Champagne & Flights

“I drink champagne when I’m happy and when I’m sad. Sometimes I drink it when I’m alone. When I have company I consider it obligatory. I trifle with it if I’m not hungry and drink it when I am...”

Champagne

Champagne can only be called Champagne if it's from the Champagne region of France.

Vallée de la Marne

Early budding Pinot Meuniere avoids the early morning frost here, and adds a floral, fleshy fruit and aromatic complexity.

 REIMS*

Montagne de Reims

Pinot Noir sits proud on the limestone rich soils of the Reims 'Mountain'.

 EPERNAY*

Côte des Blancs

Chardonnay is king here due to the famous chalk rich soils called 'terroir crayeux.' And the very important base to many of the best Champagnes in the world.

Côte de Sezanne

A hidden gem in Champagne, showcases a growing community of passionate growers.

 AUBE*

Côte des Bar

Often associated with grower Champagnes. Many vineyards are family-owned and operated, with a focus on terroir.
